

Ph.D. Workshop- 70-783-01
Syllabus and Course instructions
Building # 504 Room 301
2011-12 תשל"ב

Introduction

The seminar program is based on:

- Students' research
- Guest lectures

The participants will introduce and analyze their own research.

The presentation will take 30 minutes during which the student will be required to address questions from the audience.

A discussant will be allocated to each presentation. Any deviation from this time frame will be considered to signify that the student has insufficient command of the material or of the audience, or lacks a proper presentation technique.

The presenter will distribute a one-page abstract to all the participants and the lecturer one week prior to the meeting.

The presentation will include the following:

- Research motivation
- Research objectives
- Review of literature
- Research contribution (in terms of previous knowledge and research methods)

The discussant will share his personal opinion as to the quality of the research and missing motives, specifically in relation to:

- Ways to improve the research
- Innovations included in the research
- Weaknesses of the research
- Main contribution of the research
- Recommendations for future research directions
